

Katia Wish
illustrator • author • educator

DO YOU LONG FOR MORE
CREATIVITY, COLOR &
SELF-EXPRESSION
IN YOUR LIFE?

CONSIDER A
CREATIVITY COACH

About

With over a decade of teaching college level art, a lifetime of creative pursuits, and designing numerous projects with my young kids, I have developed an expertise in creative endeavors. My expertise includes: watercolor, collage, 3D art, kid projects, urban sketching and much more! Together we will tackle artist block and revitalize your creative self. All levels and ages are welcome, whether you are a professional artist or a beginner.

Services

Creative Hour Individual
$150 per session

Creative Hour Kids
$300 per hour

Creative Hour Group
$300 per hour

Children's Book Portfolio
Critique $120 per session

Creative Hour Individual

$150 per session

This session is for anyone who wants to add creativity to their life through one-on-one interactions with the creativity coach. From beginners to established artists, the benefits of this model will help anyone who feels a lack of direction in their art or experiences creative block.

What You Get

- 45 Minute Zoom Meeting
- Unique assignments that are in line with your objectives
- Personal critiques that guide you towards your goals
- Development driven by one's own initiative

What you Learn

- Balancing Art with Life & Work
- Creative thinking
- How to develop a process
- How to find and focus on your unique artistic Voice

Creative Hour Group

*$300 per hour

This session focuses on strengthening community through creativity. Whether you do this session with friends, family or co-workers, expect not only strengthen your artistic skills but your collaborative abilities as well.

What You Get

- Experience in your chosen materials
- Direct instruction in your own custom project

What You Learn

- Team-building
- Creative Thinking
- Collaborative Making
- Artistic Techniques

*Travel fee if more than 1 hour from Boston & material cost not included

Creative Hour Kids

*$300 per hour

The goal of this group is to support the development of creative thinking for children. Through activities, art making, and material exploration the children will learn creative problem solving and have fun! This is perfect for both parties and educational settings.

What They Get

- Guided Activities & Lessons
- Material Demonstration
- Hands on Fun

What They Learn

- Creative Problem Solving
- Collaborative Making
- Artistic Techniques

*Travel fee if more than 1 hour from Boston & material cost not included

Children's Book Portfolio Critique

$120 per session

Everyone needs a second set of eyes. It's even better when the second set of eyes is a published author and illustrator. This critique session will focus on providing you with concrete guidance on how to take your work to new heights while maintaining and elevating your unique artistic voice.

What You Get

- An in depth review of your portfolio
- Feedback on the illustrations (character's emotion, color, composition, value, narrative quality, etc.)
- Advice on style and use of materials
- Guidance on new art pieces and narratives to create and include in your portfolio

Katia Wish
illustrator • author • educator

Let's Embark on Your Creative Journey!

CONTACT ME TO START YOUR JOURNEY

www.katiawish.com

katia.wish.studio@gmail.com

978-857-2390